

CORONAVIRUS: COVID-19 By Wendy Carpenter, Chief Health Services Officer

The Coronavirus, or COVID-19, is an area of concern for many, and rightfully so. COVID-19 can cause a range of symptoms from very mild to severe, and some cases it has been fatal. COVID-19 was first identified in China with more confirmed cases in other countries, including the United States. As many are aware, potentially infectious travelers are being housed/quarantined in various locations in the United States, to include Lackland Air Force Base. With potentially infectious travelers so close, questions have been asked: Does Blue Skies of Texas have a plan as it relates to COVID-19/Coronavirus?

The answer is yes.

Blue Skies of Texas has a detailed pandemic influenza preparedness and response policy. This policy was developed as a direct result of the H1N1 virus several years ago and is reviewed annually with updates as appropriate. The plan focuses on prevention, identification/detection and control/containment. In the event one of our residents, staff, or staff family are diagnosed with COVID-19, or any influenza strain, action is immediate. Notification of influenza cases are brought to my attention and appropriate action is directed based on a variety of factors to include type of influenza and location. Blue Skies of Texas Medical Director Dr. Omar Zantua is fully engaged with the Blue Skies health care team as it relates to influenza activity. In the event of a COVID-19 diagnosis, local and state health officials would be contacted.

Prevention is always the best defense. How to Protect Yourself and Others:

Cover your nose and mouth with a tissue when coughing or sneezing. After using a tissue, throw it away and wash your hands.

Clean your hands often: washing your hands often will protect you from germs. If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand rub. (Hand sanitizers are located throughout the building.)

Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth.

Practice other good health habits, such as cleaning and disinfecting frequently touched surfaces at home. Drink plenty of fluids, stay active, and eat nutritious meals.

Flu-like symptoms include fever, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, body aches, headaches, chill and fatigue. Some people may have vomiting and diarrhea. Some people may be infected with the flu and have respiratory symptoms without a fever. Patients with the COVID-19 have reportedly had mild to severe respiratory illness with symptoms of fever, cough, and shortness of breath. Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure. If you have any symptoms associated with either virus, contact your doctor immediately. People who have traveled to areas with confirmed cases need to pay close attention to their health and notify their doctor immediately of any signs or symptoms of having been infected.

Notify your doctor as soon as you start to feel ill so the proper testing can be done, and the treatment can be started quickly.

Notify our Wellness Center of any confirmed flu or viral infection diagnosis.

NOTES FROM WELLNESS & LIFE ENRICHMENT DIRECTOR

By Shari Proctor

Got Surgery? – Your BST Wellness Team provides one of many valuable services. We follow up with residents undergoing scheduled and unscheduled surgical/medical procedures to ensure you have a successful return home. So this is a friendly reminder: please notify the Wellness Team if you are scheduled to undergo a surgical/medical procedure so we can follow up with you in the hospital to assist with your discharge plans. Living in a Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) means you have all levels of care available to you right here at BST. Discharge plans from a hospital or ambulatory surgical center could include coming to The Mission or The Vista for skilled nursing care, or home health services, or outpatient therapy, all which the Wellness Team helps coordinate with you and/or your spouse/family. Planning helps us to help you avoid a potential medical crisis when returning home directly from the hospital or surgical center.

SELECT REHABILITATION NEWS

The “C” Word – Living with Cancer Nearly every person in the US today has a friend or family member that has been directly affected by cancer. While cancer affects persons of all ages and stages of life, cancer is more frequently diagnosed in older persons: 78% of all cancer diagnoses are in persons aged 55 or older. Screenings and healthy choices can reduce the number of new cancer cases and prevent many deaths. The management of symptoms related to cancer and its treatment is an important part of cancer care, affecting the completion of treatment and quality of life, as well as physical and psychological functioning. How can PT, OT and SLP help? Physical and cognitive impairments because of preexisting medical problems, the cancer itself, or cancer treatment may significantly reduce the ability to function, resulting in disability and poor quality of life. Examples of impairments include muscle weakness, swallowing or speech problems, lymphedema and physical disability as a result of major surgery. It is common to have multiple impairments that should be treated with an interdisciplinary rehabilitation approach. Rehabilitation can be applied throughout the entire phase from the time of diagnosis to the terminal stage, and it is an approach that can involve psychosocial aspects as well as physical aspects. Your rehab team can provide practical and helpful interventions and resources to assist you or your loved ones throughout the cancer continuum. If you would like to receive more information on how the therapy department can help you or your loved one, please call

210-568-5171 for the East campus

210-568-3415 for the West campus
